懷念曾永義院士戲曲紀念展—許美玲當代書畫創作展

許美玲為銘傳大學藝術升等副教授，為紀念恩師曾永義院士，以新編崑劇創作為個展主題，有曾永義院士撰寫《新編崑劇 / 梁祝》、《新編崑劇 / 楊妃夢》、《新編京劇 / 桃花扇》、《新編崑劇 / 蔡文姬》、《二子乘舟》、《孟姜女》、《虎符傳奇》、《客家大戲 / 牛郎織女天王星、霸王虞姬》、豫劇《慈禧與甄妃》、歌仔戲《陶侃與賢母》... 等結合臺灣五大劇種之油畫創作。另外有臺灣崑劇團《紅樓夢·崑曲》、北市國樂團《玉宇夢紅樓》...等繪畫創作。畫中以西方油畫色彩，結合中國水墨行草節奏，”繪畫凝結曲韻、戲曲凝結繪畫”，讓觀者恍若置身戲曲舞台，將傳統寫實畫風加以變體，彰顯強烈抒情性與節奏動感，塑造特殊的個人美學風格。

富田望水-臺大校總區水文及水資源

攤開清代、日治時期的古地圖，臺灣大學校總區所位處的「頂內埔庄」，周遭圍繞著河流及水渠。當時校地的西南方為「林口庄」，西北方為「林尾」，似乎就是 350 多年前荷蘭人所看到的那個美麗森林。而這片美麗森林，可能於清代時期透過水圳設施的灌溉開墾變成一畝一畝的良田。當時清代三條水圳中的「瑠公圳」與「霧裡薛圳」流經過我們校地，而開啟公館這個地方田陌水路交織的景色。

1724 年「霧裡薛圳」開始被討論興築，在這個 300 年前的時間點，我們將透過各式古地圖、老照片，介紹學校以前周遭水圳及近代水資源環境改善，談談校總區過去與現在的水文與人的關係。

Standing in Fertile Farmland, Looking Toward The Water—Hydrological History and Water Resources of NTU Main Campus

Unfolding ancient maps from the Qing Dynasty and the Japanese colonial period, we find "Ding Neipu Village," where the main campus of National Taiwan University now stands, surrounded by rivers and water channels. At that time, to the southwest of the campus was "Linkou Village," and to the northwest was "Linwei," seemingly the beautiful forest witnessed by the Dutch over 350 years ago. This picturesque forest might have been transformed into cultivated fields through irrigation facilitated by water channels during the Qing Dynasty era. Among the three water channels of the Qing Dynasty, the "LIOUGONG Canal" and the "WULIXUE Canal" flowed through our campus, creating the scenic landscape of intersecting fields and waterways in the Gongguan area.

In 1724, discussions began on the construction of the "WULIXUE Canal." Bringing you back to 300 years ago, we will utilize various ancient maps and old photographs to introduce the historical water channels surrounding the university and the improvements in modern water resource environments. From the past to the present, we will discuss the relationship between the hydrology of the campus area and human activities.

2023/11/15 (Wed.) ~2024/06/30 (Sun.) Open on Tue-Sat, 09:00-17:00, closed on Monday, Sunday and national holidays.

NTNU Night—Clapping to Send Love

Meykaryag or the Clapping and Singing Gatherings were once a popular summer night entertainment of the Tao people and an essential social occasion for young men and women to make acquaintances. Meykaryag gradually became obsolete. In the early 21st century, there is no more spontaneous organization of these gatherings on the island.

The re-enactment of Meykaryag began to take shape after active and multi-lateral approaches. After more than one year of practice, it is hoped that this performance at the NTNU Musical Festival can revive this almost extinct indigenous musical art. Our hope is that the younger generation of Tao people can showcase the result of their learning. But more importantly, the general public in Taiwan can come to appreciate the music anew and support the revival of this endangered cultural heritage.

《The New Sounds of Imagism, LOHAS with Music》 : A Concert of Contemporary Music

《The New Sounds of Imagism, LOHAS with Music》 features compositions by graduate students in the Composition Division of NTNU Music Department. Repertoire of the first half of the concert focuses on art songs written for chamber choir composed by Xin Lee, including “Listen, the Night is Flowing” and “Quay”. Also performed before the intermission is “Folk Songs” written by Luciano Berio (1925-2003), a piece that allows the audience to experience the charms of vocal works by the renown contemporary composer. In the second half of the concert, orchestral works by three composers, “Impressions of Night Excursion” by Li-En Chang, “Inspiration” by Tze-Tang Liao and “To Dream” by Yao-Sheng Deng will be performed. These large-scale orchestral works pose great challenges to the young composers in their command over techniques and the acoustic effects. The three pieces together will be an aural feast for the audience.

In addition, the concert also aims at promoting contemporary music in Taiwan and bringing the audience a brand-new musical experience.
